

Protocol for APC Annual Meeting

(October 17, 2020)

In order to assure that everyone can hear and to be fair to all of APC's shareholders, the following protocol must be followed and will be enforced:

1. Only Shareholders May Participate

Per the Rules of Annual Meeting of Shareholders, only shareholders may attend the meeting.

2. No Gathering

This year, because of the health threat posed by the coronavirus pandemic, we will not be gathering in one place.

3. Telephonic Participation

The rules stated below are intended to provide our shareholders with the next best thing to a gathering: telephonic participation where everyone can learn about our corporation's activities over the last year.

4. Rules for Telephonic Participation

- A. A telephone number has been supplied. Please mute your phones. If there is too much racket that will clearly interfere with our ability to make presentations.
- B. We will not be taking questions over the telephone. If you cannot mute your phone, then please keep the background noise as low as possible.
- C. Questions will be taken via text only. A text number is supplied in your proxy materials. The rules for texting are:
 - i. Keep your questions to the point;
 - ii. Only one question at a time;
 - iii. Your question must follow the following format:
 1. Your pin number (supplied in the proxy material)
 2. Your name
 3. The question: Be as concise as possible. Remember, only one question at a time.
 4. Once you have asked a question, you must wait for its response before posing another question.

5. We will answer questions in the order received.
6. Remember: We will not be taking questions over the telephone.
7. Only questions that are set out in the format above will be responded to.

We look forward to the teleconference. And, most especially, please accept our wishes that we all remain healthy through this difficult time.
